

Des Moines Historical Society Centennial Certificate Program

One hundred years is a long time. And in each passing day is a reminder that our history is growing and changing and, oftentimes, forgotten. The Des Moines Historical Society (DMHS) wants to make sure Des Moines' history isn't lost.

In response to a need for greater recognition and acknowledgement of Des Moines history, DMHS is starting the "Centennial Certificate" program.

Through Des Moines' 58 neighborhood associations, DMHS is working to document businesses, organizations, people, homes and buildings that are 100 years old or older. Each honoree will receive a complimentary framed Centennial Certificate recognizing their contribution to the history of Des Moines during special public presentations throughout the year, many in conjunction with Neighborhood Association meetings. Honorees will also have the opportunity to purchase a bronze plaque recognizing this achievement.

Thank you in advance for your assistance with this important project. Below you will find the Centennial Certificate Program Guidelines and submission form.
